

5 Questions You Should Be Asking About Metals

1. What's the best way to diversify my portfolio?

This is the key question most never think to ask. People think all metals are the same and they definitely are not. The best way to diversify your portfolio is to consult with an expert who really knows the industry like RMUSA. We have been trained in all metals, gold, silver, platinum, paladium, bullion and numismatics. If you only have a small amount of money it still definitely pays to get an expert to tell you what to buy. There are many factors affecting what to own: your income, the economy, the coming collapse of the stock market, and your personal needs.

2. What metals will bring me the greatest return?

If you do not know the answer to this question you definitely need a consultation. We do not recommend you consult family, friends, or even the warehouses because most of the time you shop online you just guess, and there is a huge difference in the metals that bring the greatest return. This is one of our specialties as a metals company.

3. How do You determine the metals you recommend?

The metals we recommend will be determined in your consultation; they will be customized to your specific circumstances.

4. Where do you recommend I store my metals?

When you do business w RMUSA we include a list recommending 15 suggested places to store your metals. This will be extremely helpful because it is very important to keep the fact that you own metals secret. Also, we do not recommend depositories in far away places because when you need them it may be very hard to get them and take a long time if many people are wanting them at the same time. Our experience has shown that it takes on the average 6 weeks to get your metals, even if you make an appointment and drive to Delaware to the depository.

5. Can I Insure My Metals?

Yes, you can. Again, this answer we will provide you when you have your consultation with us. This is a very important question most people forget to ask!
